Palo Santo is a wood from Peru, Ecuador and other south American countries, most widely used for spiritual purification and energy cleansing, believed to clear negative energy and restore tranquillity and calm emotions.

Light the Palo Santo stick with a candle, lighter, or match, hold the stick downward at a 45-degree angle, let the stick burn for 30 seconds then blow out the flame and use the smoke to cleanse yourself and the room you plan to be in for the ceremony.

I sell Ecuadorian Tsatsayaku Cacao which is from the Fino de Aroma Bean, wild-harvested, organic, non-GMO and directly supporting the Tsatsayaku Association. Helping these communities to maintain and sustain their traditional way of life <https://www.tsatsayaku.com>

A Ceremonial dose is 42g cacao and 250ml of water.

Agua De Florida Water is the spirit water used in South America by shamans for cleansing during ceremony, rituals and healing processes. Used to clear heavy energy around the body's energy field and can be used in an atmospheric bottle for space clearing rooms. Good for grounding and bringing you back to 3-dimensional reality after a ceremony. Splash a small amount into your hands, inhale the wonderful smell and use it to cleanse your aura from your head to your toes.
